Amended March 2013

This Delivery Agreement for the Newport Local Development Plan 2011 - 2026 was approved by the Welsh Assembly Government on 23 May 2008.

A revision to the timetable has been incorporated in March 2011 and this was approved by the Welsh Assembly Government on 21 April 2011.

ABOUT THIS DOCUMENT

Where we are now?

Any visitor to Newport cannot help but be aware of the large amount of new development going on. This reflects what is in the current Development Plan for Newport. At the same time, most of the countryside surrounding Newport is being kept free from development.

Where do we want to go to?

The Unitary Development Plan ran until December 2011. This continues to form the Development Plan for Newport, but work is well advanced on preparing a new Plan to take over from the current one in due course. The new Plan will be called the Newport Local Development Plan 2011 – 2026. The Plan will contain policies that will set out what sorts of development will and will not be allowed, and in what circumstances, and proposals for specific areas of land (for example new housing areas, whether brownfield or greenfield).

Who can get involved?

Anyone can get involved and have a say in the shaping of the city. This document tells you more about how the Plan will be prepared, and in particular sets out:

- the opportunities that you will have to be involved in the Plan-making process both as an individual or as community groups
- a timetable for the preparation of the new Development Plan for Newport, and
- how this part of the planning system works

I Opportunities to be involved

Delivery Agreement

1.1 This Delivery Agreement has been prepared in consultation with interested parties, and this represented the first opportunity for getting involved in the preparation of the Newport Local Development Plan (LDP). The community will be able to be engaged in the process all the way through. This Delivery Agreement has an important role to play in setting out how people can get involved, and in managing the process of Plan preparation. It covers these topics:

Timetable

- 1.2 The plan is about the future development of Newport, and the Council is keen to let everyone have a say in the development of the city. The first step has been to agree a timetable so people can know when they can contribute, and when they can expect a response to their input. Section 2 sets out the Council's proposed timetable. It has been necessary to amend the timetable during the course of Plan-preparation, and this revised Delivery Agreement sets out the latest timetable.
- 1.3 Changes to the Delivery Agreement timetable are necessary to ensure the LDP is robust and best responds to representations received to date. In particular, additional evidence on housing need, population growth, and employment land needs has been required.
- 1.4 In addition, following the local government elections in May 2012, the new Administration pledged to review the Gypsy and Traveller sites contained in the Deposit Local Development Plan to ensure the sites were identified in a transparent way and subject to public consultation. This work has been undertaken by one of the Council's Scrutiny Committees, and the identified sites will now be inserted into the Local Development Plan and subject to further consultation as part of the LDP process.
- 1.5 In accordance with Welsh Government advice, the resultant changes to the LDP will go into a Revised Deposit Plan, with associated public consultation this Summer (2013), before the Plan is submitted to the Welsh Government for examination.

Community Involvement Scheme

1.6 Any individual or organisation can be involved in the shaping of the LDP, but community involvement is particularly encouraged through a Community Involvement Scheme (CIS). More information on how the community can be involved is given in section 3.

The Planning System

1.7 The Plan has to be prepared according to the rules set down by Central Government. This means that the general soundness of the Plan will be decided by an independent inspector appointed by the Welsh Government. In setting out the process in this Delivery Agreement, maximum opportunity is given for input to the Plan and for consensus to be built as far as possible. It is important therefore to be involved early on and to put forward your views. The inspector will be interested in all the evidence on each aspect of the plan.

- 1.8 The Plan cannot be prepared in a vacuum of course, and will need to take account of all relevant factors, including:
  - existing development
  - the wider context, including neighbouring Authorities
  - planning policy guidance from the Welsh Government, some of which implements European Directives
- 1.9 The Plan will be the key document for determining the sort of places in which we live, work and take our recreation. It will be a key means by which we look after the environment for the benefit of this and future generations. More information on how the planning system seeks to do this is found in section 4.
- 1.10 We hope that you will read this booklet and will take time to be involved in shaping the future of Newport: the city, the surrounding villages and countryside. This Delivery Agreement has already been amended in the light of comments received as the first part of the consultation process. If you or your organisation are not already registered as wanting to be involved you do this through the on the Council website can page www.newport.gov.uk/planningpolicy email or by to Idp.consultation@newport.gov.uk or by telephoning 01633 656656 or by writing to the:

2 The Timetable

- 2.1 The Welsh Government is keen to see the Local Development Plan produced within a four year timescale. Although this may sound like a long time, it will actually require very focused responses from all concerned because of the number of stages involved and the statutory procedures that have to be followed (see section 4). Newport has an adopted Plan currently in operation to guide new development (the Newport Unitary Development Plan 1996 -2011), and it will continue to do so while the new plan (the LDP), is prepared. Newport also has a number of large development sites that, in view of their size, werenot completed by 2011 and construction on these sites is ongoing.
- 2.2 The process of preparing the new Plan involves a number of stages, some of which overlap. In brief, the process may be summarised as:
  - evidence gathering for use both in the Plan itself and in the assessment of the Plan's likely impact on the environment;
  - a preferred overall strategy for the Plan; •
  - the draft Plan, which is then formally placed on deposit<sup>1</sup>;
  - public examination of the draft Plan by an independent inspector;
  - the inspector's report on the draft Plan; •
  - formal adoption of the Plan in accordance with the inspector's recommendations.
- 2.3 Many landowners and developers may have areas of land that they would like to see allocated for development in the Plan. These are known as candidate sites. The Council has a duty to consider these, and also to give other interested parties the opportunity to comment on them. The Council handled this in a structured way by inviting submissions at an early stage on major sites. These are defined as those sites that could deliver key elements of what could be a potential strategy for the Plan, and which therefore needed to be considered early on while the strategy was evolving. At the same time the Council invited views as to how smaller candidate sites should be evaluated. The call for these smaller sites was made later, but the invitation to comment on the criteria to be used allowed all interested parties to contribute both to the principles of the process, and then later to the detailed consideration of sites. The early establishment of criteria helped those wishing to submit a candidate site by identifying the type of information they needed to include with any proposal. It also gave help later to those wishing to comment upon the sites, and to the Council in its evaluation of proposals and responses.
- 2.4 There have already been, and continue to be, many opportunities for interested parties to be involved in the preparation of the Plan at all the stages up to and including the public examination of the draft Plan. Table I below sets out the main stages in the programme; a more detailed version is found in Appendix I. Clearly there are uncertainties in timing on a project taking place over many years, and with many different organisations involved, and against a background of changing statutory requirements and guidance. Appendix 2 therefore seeks to identify potential risks and ways of coping with them. Because of the need to adhere to the timetabled approach, it is unlikely that the Council will be in a position to accept late representations made after a defined consultation period has ended. Appendix 3 covers resource issues.

- 2.5 Table 2 in section 3 below gives more information on the opportunities for community involvement in the process. Appendix 4 lists consultation bodies that the Council will seek to involve in the process; this list can be added to at any time in the process.
- 2.6 The inspector will evaluate all evidence brought before him or her, so it is important for interested persons to be engaged with the process all the way through, for the inspector's decision will be binding. The Council must then adopt the Plan within eight weeks of receiving the inspector's report.

The Community Involvement Scheme 3

- 3.1 This Community Involvement Scheme (CIS) is a statement of how Newport City Council intends to involve members of the community and relevant stakeholders throughout the preparation of the Newport Local Development Plan (LDP). This is in accordance with the Welsh Government's intention for the changing planning system in Wales to become faster, yet also to have more community involvement. The Council has, and will continue to, target its consultation and use innovative methods to achieve not only inclusive consultation, but also real engagement with the community right from the start of the process.
- 3.2 This scheme therefore shows how the Council has and intends to continue to engage with people, what resources it will be using, how it will use the information acquired from people during consultation and how the results will then be fed back. In this way it is hoped to achieve consensus on the Plan. The input from a wide range of interested parties will also help the Council in taking the decisions it has to make.

Purpose and Benefits of Community Involvement

- The purpose of community involvement is to improve Council service 3.3 delivery by involving wide and targeted ranges of interested parties in decisions, so that they have some ownership over the decisions that affect them and the places where they live and work. The following benefits are therefore hoped to be achieved during the Local Development Plan process:
  - gathering of ideas, choices and aspirations
  - a better understanding of the community needs the Plan can address
  - testing of proposals and greater consensus building •
  - greater ownership and acceptance of land use changes
  - greater understanding of what the changes are and when they are happening
  - increased trust and willingness to get involved in future decision making
  - more legitimate outcomes

Who are we hoping will get involved?

- 3.4 Regulations<sup>2</sup> set out minimum consultation requirements. The Council intends to meet and exceed these requirements. There are "general consultation bodies" that should be contacted, which comprise:
  - voluntary groups •
  - bodies representing different racial, ethnic or national groups •
  - religious groups
  - disabled persons' groups
  - bodies representing businesses operating in the area
  - Welsh cultural bodies

- 3.5 Community Councils are to be consulted as "relevant authorities". Other "specific consultation bodies" include:
  - the Natural Resources Wales
  - the Welsh Government
  - statutory undertakers, such as telecommunications, electricity, gas, water and sewerage companies
  - the Local Health Board

Targeted Consultation and Target Audiences

- 3.6 The Council has a database of parties who had expressed an interest in the Newport Unitary Development Plan that was adopted in 2006. All of these have been contacted to see if they wish to continue their interest through into the Local Development Plan. Any person or organisation can be added to the Council's consultation database at any time, or they can request no further contact if they so wish.
- 3.7 Some groups have not been well represented in planning matters in the past, for example, children and young people, and black and minority ethnic (BME) groups. Both of these groups represent a higher than average proportion of the population in Newport than in Wales as a whole as these graphs show:

Graph I - Age Profile

Graph 2 - Ethnic Composition

3.8 The intentions for community engagement must reflect local circumstances and recognise the limits of the Council's resources. The Welsh Government advises consideration of the profile of local communities and to identify target audiences. There is specific encouragement to consult with groups of people who have previously been under-represented in the Plan-making process. Newport City Council intends to embrace this approach, and to seek contact with such groups.

- 3.9 The Council has and will seek to continue to engage with traditionally underrepresented groups, including young people and ethnic minority groups. As part of the preparatory work, a range of policies from the existing Unitary Development Plan will be tested in terms of equality. The Council has an Equalities Officer who will help to ensure that every element of the LDP meets equalities standards and legislation.
- 3.10 As with many subject areas, if people are consulted through broad methods such as letters, responses are likely to be received from the people with the greatest interests, loudest voices or strongest opinions. Planning is, however, about making development decisions in the public interest, and it therefore follows that these interests should be well represented in the LDP. Representation on the LDP will therefore be achieved through broad and targeted consultation methods. Various techniques are suggested in Table 2 below, although this list is not intended to be exhaustive and will need to be responsive to feedback from participants. The resulting polices and proposals of the Plan will be the first port of call for the assessments made by planning officers and the Planning Committee of planning applications received by the Council. These methods will also be used in the production of Supplementary Planning Guidance (SPG), which will add greater detail to the LDP (see paragraphs 4.22, 4.23 and 4.24 below).
- 3.11 As stated in paragraph 1.4 above, one of the main reasons for this revised Delivery Agreement timetable is the review of the proposed Gypsy and Traveller sites. This review was carried out by one of the Council's Scrutiny Committees and itself was subject to significant public consultation, including both a call for suggested sites early in the review process, and consultation on a short-list of 11 potential sites which saw some 7000 responses. Parties who responded to this Scrutiny consultation and provided a contact address will be added to the LDP consultation database to inform them of the next opportunities for involvement in the LDP.

Consultation to be used in the Sustainability Appraisal

- 3.12 Consultation is an important part of the process of appraising the environmental performance of the Plan, including the Habitats Regulations Assessment. This consultation will be an important task to be undertaken at each stage. The Council will therefore:
  - agree methods with environmental consultation bodies as to the most effective way of achieving their input
  - take full account of the formal requirements for Sustainability Appraisal, Strategic Environmental Assessment and Habitats Regulations Assessment
  - seek appropriate ways of involving organisations representing environmental, economic and social interests
  - commit to feeding back on how the Council will use responses at each stage in developing the content of the LDP

4 The Planning System

- 4.1 Britain has a planning system in which most forms of development require planning permission, although minor development on individual houses often falls within a class of "permitted development" and so does not require planning permission. More information on this can be found on the development management page of the Council website www.newport.gov.uk/dc A public guide to the land use planning system in Wales produced by Planning Aid Wales in September 2006 also contains useful information.
- 4.2 Major development will usually require a planning application to be submitted, and the proposals will then be judged against the policies of the Council's Development Plan, together with the national policy guidance of the Welsh Government and local and detailed considerations. What is in the Newport Local Development Plan will therefore be very important in guiding changes to the City that will take place over time, and will enable rational and consistent decisions to be made on planning applications of all kinds.

What is a Local Development Plan (LDP)?

- 4.3 A Local Development Plan is the statutory form of land use development plan that each Local Authority in Wales is required to prepare under Part 6 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004. The Plan will consist of a written part, containing policies and proposals, together with a reasoned justification for them, and a plan, based on an Ordnance Survey map. Policies are a set of words which describe what is or is not acceptable; proposals are developments or activities that are proposed for the future.
- 4.4 The first stage was to identify issues, then to create a vision of what sort of place Newport should be that will address these issues. Objectives were then to be identified that will help to turn the vision into a spatial strategy with policies and proposals that can be implemented.

Government Policy

- 4.5 In Wales, town and country planning policy and the implementation of primary legislation has been devolved to the Welsh Government. While there are many similarities to the guidance in England, the systems do diverge however, and English government guidance is not directly applicable in Wales, except for matters that relate to England and Wales together or to the UK as a whole.
- 4.6 Under the Planning and Compulsory Act 2004, in preparing its LDP, the council must have regard to:
  - national (Welsh) planning policy
  - the Wales Spatial Plan (produced by the National Assembly)
  - the Council's Single Integrated Plan

- the resources likely to be available to implement the plan
- 4.7 National guidance on planning policy is set out mainly in:
  - Planning Policy Wales (PPW) (2012)
  - Minerals Planning Policy Wales (MPPW) (2000)
  - Technical Advice Notes (Wales) (TANs) (various dates)
  - Minerals Technical Advice Note (Wales) 1: Aggregates (2004)
- 4.8 Local Development Plans should not repeat national policy. There may be occasions where the Plan may diverge from national policy, but in such a case there would need to be a robust evidence base to support this.

Regional Policy

- 4.9 The Welsh Government encourages collaborative working between Authorities, and the Council has input to various plans and strategies, and will need to have regard to their content, including the latest versions of:
  - The Regional Transport Plan
  - The Waste Strategy and the Regional Waste Plan
  - The Regional Technical Statement for Aggregate Minerals
  - The South East Wales Development Strategy produced by the South East Wales Economic Forum
  - The workings of the South East Wales Strategic Planning Group

Council Policy

- 4.10 The Local Development Plan is one of four key plans or strategies that councils in Wales have to prepare. The other three are:
  - the Single Integrated Plan
  - the Children and Young People's Plan
  - the Health, Social Care and Wellbeing Strategy

The Local Development Plan is a key means of delivering those elements of these and other strategies that have aspects that involve the use of land, for example for recreational areas, community buildings, etc. The four strategies should all link together to achieve their various aims, with the Single Integrated Plan providing the over-arching framework and vision for Newport. The Local Strategic Partnership will monitor progress towards the goals of the community strategy, and will use a matrix management tool to assess this.

4.11 The full Council will need to approve the main stages of the Plan, although the Cabinet or the relevant Cabinet Member may approve some consultation documents. Individual elected Members, also including Planning Committee and Scrutiny forum, will also have opportunity to contribute to the process.

Procedures

- 4.12 Guidance on procedures is found mainly in:
  - Local Development Plans: Policy on Preparation of LDPs (Welsh Assembly Government 2005)

- Local Development Plan Manual (Welsh Assembly Government 2006)
- The Town and Country Planning (Local Development Plan) (Wales) Regulations 2005 (Welsh Statutory Instrument 2005 No. 2839 (W.203))
- 4.13 The Local Development Plan must be prepared in accordance with:
  - the Local Planning Authority's Community Involvement Scheme, and
  - the timetable for the preparation of the Plan.

These are combined in this document, which is to be agreed with the Welsh Government.

- 4.14 When, following the necessary consultation, the Council has produced its Plan, it must then submit it to the Welsh Government for public examination by an independent inspector. The inspector will consider all representations made on the deposit Plan, and examine the Plan for soundness; this will be on three main counts:
  - procedural whether the necessary procedures have been followed
  - consistency whether it has had regard to other relevant policies and strategies
  - coherence and effectiveness various tests are included to ensure that the plan is realistic and that it is consistent both internally and externally
- 4.15 The inspector will prepare a report to the Council of recommendations with the reasoning behind them. This report is binding, that is to say that the Council has to accept the inspector's recommendations and change the Plan accordingly. The only exception to this is that the Welsh Government has powers to direct the Council to modify the plan at any stage in its preparation if it considers it to be unsatisfactory. The Council must adopt the Plan within eight weeks of receipt of the inspector's report, and at the same time, if it has not already done so, it must publish the inspector's report.
- 4.16 Further guidance on how the examination of plans is conducted is found in A Guide to the Examination of Local Development Plans published in October 2006 by the Planning Inspectorate Wales. With regard to soundness, one of the procedural tests is whether the plan has been prepared in accordance with this Delivery Agreement and Community Involvement Scheme.

Sustainability and the Environment

4.17 The Local Development Plan is one of the key means by which sustainable development can be achieved and the environment protected. European environmental legislation has been translated into British law, including in Wales. One aspect of this is that local development plans must be subject to a strategic environmental assessment (SEA)<sup>11</sup>. The Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 requires a sustainability appraisal (SA) to be undertaken, and these will be carried out together.

- 4.18 The sustainability appraisal can be seen to operate at the detailed level in that the policies and proposals of the Plan need to be appraised for their economic, environmental and social effects, positive or negative. The main aim of the strategic environmental assessment is to improve the environmental performance of the Plan as a whole. The studies themselves require public consultation and the results have to be published in an environmental report.
- 4.19 The sustainability appraisal should be fully integrated into the Plan-making process, providing input at each stage and helping to identify objectives. This should help to ensure that that the Plan can be demonstrated to be sound.
- 4.20 Further details and guidance on how sustainability appraisal incorporating strategic environmental assessment should be carried out can be found in:
  - The Environmental Assessment of Plans and Programmes (Wales) Regulations 2004 (Welsh Statutory Instrument 2004 No. 1656 (W.170))
  - A Practical Guide to the Strategic Environmental Assessment Directive (ODPM and devolved administrations 2005)
  - The Local Development Plan Manual (Welsh Assembly Government June 2006)
  - Sustainability Appraisal of Regional Spatial Strategies and Local Development Documents (ODPM November 2005 – although this is not issued in Wales, it contains useful detailed guidance)
- The European Habitats Directive (92/43/EEC) requires a habitats 4.21 regulations assessment (HRA), encompassing an appropriate assessment (AA), to be undertaken for any plan or project that may have an effect, either individually or in combination with other plans or projects, on a European designated site. These sites are defined as special protection areas for birds (SPAs) and special areas of conservation (SACs). Ramsar sites (wetlands of international importance) are also treated as European sites. The presence of the River Usk and Severn Estuary mean that these requirements will apply. The HRA will be carried out in conjunction with the SA/SEA to ensure an integrated approach, and will be carried out by specialist consultants. The South East Wales Strategic Planning Group, of which Newport City Council is a member, is also commissioning a joint assessment template across the whole of the region which will feed into this process.

Supplementary Planning Guidance (SPG)

4.22 Supplementary Planning Guidance does not form part of the Development Plan but may be used to provide more detailed guidance, for example for particular sites or to cover general themes. Many of the subjects for such guidance will therefore only emerge as the Plan is prepared. The purpose of the guidance will be to supplement the policies of the Local Development Plan, and not to supersede or replace what is in the Plan.

- 4.23 When the Council prepares Supplementary Planning Guidance, it will undertake a public consultation exercise, and take into consideration all responses received before deciding whether to amend or formally adopt the guidance. When these formal procedures have been followed, the guidance will be a material consideration (that is to say that it will be taken into account) in the determination of relevant planning applications or appeals.
- 4.24 A number of SPG documents have been prepared to supplement the adopted Unitary Development Plan. These will be reviewed and, where necessary, amended to relate to the Local Development Plan. They will then go out to public consultation before being adopted. Topics requiring further supplementary guidance will be identified in the LDP. Further SPGs may be produced from time to time as the need is identified.

The Council will use its best endeavours to maintain momentum on those aspects of the process over which it has direct control, and will do what it can to help others to make their contribution in a timely fashion. If significant slippages occur in the timetable, more than might reasonably be expected to be made up in the following stages, then the Council will propose an amendment to the timetable. This should then help all interested parties in the scheduling of their own input to the process. The Welsh Government recommends in the Local Development Plan Manual<sup>12</sup> that in order to build in a level of tolerance, three month blocks should be used. The Council would therefore be unlikely to suggest a timetable revision for a slippage of less than three months. Should an adjustment to the timetable prove to be necessary, agreement to the change must be sought from the Welsh Government.

Appendix 3 Resources

The LDP will be prepared by the Planning Policy team within the Regeneration and Regulatory Services area. The team will be spending the majority of its time on the preparation of the LDP or matters related directly to it. Within the team there is the Policy and Conservation Manager, a Planning Policy Liaison Officer, two Senior Planning Officer posts, a Planning Officer and an Administravie Support Assistant. Three of these posts are on fixed term contracts for the duration of the LDP. Technical assistance will be provided by the Spatial Data and Planning Systems Support Unit.

Input will also be sought from other parts of the Council, including with regard to the other three plans or strategies that Local Authorities have to prepare in Wales, which are:

- the Single Integrated Plan,
- the Children and Young People's Plan,
- the Health, Social Care and Wellbeing Strategy.

Internal consultations will be wide-ranging, and will include Streetscene, other Environmental Services including Development Management, Waste, Housing, Transportation, Lifelong Learning and Leisure, Property Services and Economic Development.

External input will be expected from a variety of sources, as set out in Table 2 above. Where necessary, the Council will appoint consultants to provide additional professional services. These will include for the Sustainability Appraisal including Strategic Environmental Assessment and Habitats Regulations Assessment. Such services will be procured out of the Policy Section budget, with any unspent monies carried forward year by year to help fund the major expense of the public examination, for which the Council has to pay, and which comes towards the end of the process.
