Q12: I feel free from bullying.

Why do you think this (334 comments received)?

- I used to get bullied.
- Because I do not get bullied.
- No-one bullies me when I'm around them.
- I got bullied before! I hope I never see the bully's again!
- The school does not deal with bullying how it should do. I was bullied younger down the school and the advice that they gave me was to sit down, have a chat with the bullies and ask them to be friends, which personally I think is totally inappropriate advise and was not helpful in the slightest. The bullying only stopped when the main person of the bullies moved school a year later.
- I was bullied and had to move schools as the teacher dealing with it was worse than the bully.
- Bullying is always going to a part of school life. Even if there are ways of reporting at school, it still exists.

- Because anyone can be a bully.
- In school, you always have the unlucky chance that someone could come along and shove negative comments about you in the face. The teachers can do what they can to stop it happening to you, but not everyone. Bullying is a very bad thing though, and I just don't understand how someone could be so stupid to do such a thing in the first place.
